Dear Parents and Caregivers of students in Stage 3,

On Tuesday 28 July 2020, Stage 3 students will participate in a full day program to cultivate positive relationships and develop decision making skills. There will be a half-day follow up session in Term 4 on a date to be advised.

The program outline is as follows:

Your Wellbeing: Resilience for Transition

Using strengths-based language to support self-awareness we will focus on the individual in terms of their personal reactions, responses and motivations in addition to seeking to understand our impact on others.

Focusing on personal leadership to assist students as they transition between primary and high school, the workshop will encourage students to be more mindful of their words, actions and choices as they lead their school and transition to high school.

The workshops will address social issues that arise from negative choices and unpack what they are. Often, they are not bullying, they are simply not nice behaviours. As such, we explain how we each react and respond to situations based on what our motivations and style are. It will also highlight negative choices and poor decision-making and the need to find a constructive use for these personal drivers.

The program will be delivered by Kathryn Taylor from Turning Point Consulting.

There will be no cost for Stage 3 students to participate in the program.

Please contact us if you have any questions about the program.

Kind regards,

Marni Patterson
